WareKart Logistics & Supply Co.

Refund & Return Policy

Version: 2.0
Effective Date: 10 March 2025

1. About the Policy

WareKart Logistics & Supply Co. is committed to maintaining transparent and operationally practical return and refund practices for all business clients. This policy defines the conditions under which orders may be cancelled, returned, or refunded, taking into account the complexities of bulk procurement and logistics operations.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all bulk orders, warehouse equipment, material handling products, and logistics supplies provided by AeroCart. It is designed to ensure consistency in decision-making while balancing inventory management and customer satisfaction.

3. Bulk Orders

Bulk orders represent a significant operational commitment due to logistics planning and inventory allocation. Refund eligibility depends on order size and timing of the request.

Orders between 100 and 500 units may be eligible for a partial refund if cancellation is requested within 7 days of delivery. In such cases, up to 80% of the order value may be refunded, while 20% is retained as a restocking and administrative fee to cover handling and allocation costs.

Orders exceeding 500 units are considered high-volume commitments and are non-refundable once dispatched. Exceptions may be considered only in rare circumstances such as force majeure events or significant transit delays, subject to written approval.

4. Custom Orders

Custom or made-to-order products are developed based on specific client requirements and are therefore non-refundable once production has begun or resources have been committed. Due to their specialized nature, such items cannot be reallocated or resold.

In cases where a manufacturing defect is verified, AeroCart may offer a replacement or partial compensation, based on internal assessment.

5. Damaged or Defective Goods

While all goods are inspected prior to dispatch, clients are required to report any damage within 5 days of delivery. Visible damage must be noted on the Proof of Delivery (POD) at the time of receipt.

All claims must be supported with appropriate evidence, including photographs or videos. Upon verification, AeroCart will initiate a suitable resolution, which may include replacement or refund for the affected items.

6. Return Conditions

Returned items must be unused, undamaged, and in their original packaging. AeroCart reserves the right to reject returns that do not meet these criteria.

Unless the return is due to a confirmed defect or company error, the responsibility for return shipping costs and associated risks lies with the client.

7. Refund Processing

Approved refunds are processed within 7–10 business days from confirmation and are issued via the original payment method. Processing timelines may vary depending on external financial systems.

8. Policy Interpretation

WareKart operates across multiple communication channels, including official documents, pricing records, and email correspondence. In case of discrepancies, the most recent officially documented and versioned policy shall take precedence.

Email-based commitments are considered provisional and subject to validation against official records. Where conflicts arise between documents, priority is determined based on document type and timestamp, ensuring that the most reliable and current information is applied.

9. Amendments

WareKart reserves the right to update or modify this policy as required. Clients are advised to refer to the latest version for accurate information.
